HISTORICAL BACKGROUND OF URDANETA CITY

Urdaneta was organized into a pueblo on January 8, 1858 when the contiguous settlement of the pioneering inhabitants, mostly Ilocanos and a sprinkling of Pangasinenses, met all requirements of becoming a town. It came into existence from the conglomeration of portions of barrios from the surrounding towns of Asingan, Villasis, Malasiqui, Sta. Barbara, Mangaldan, Manaoag and Binalonan.

The petitioners for the creation of the new independent town identified themselves as Cabeza Tenientes representing the inhabitants of barrios Batad in Asingan, Nancamaliran in Sta. Barbara and Caocalan in Mangaldan. They proposed that the new town be named Soldevilla, in honor of the Alcalde Mayor of the Province at that time, Senior Don Manuel Boutelon y Soldevilla. However, the Alcalde Mayor himself declined the honor and, instead proposed, with the recommendation of the Parish Priest, Fr. Nicolas Manrique Alonzo, the name Urdaneta. Father Andres de Urdaneta was a famous soldier, navigator, historian, cosmographer and evangelist who was assigned by King Philip II of Spain to join the Legaspi Expedition of 1564. The Vicar of Sta. Barbara and the curates of Asingan and Mangaldan supported Father Alonzo's proposal to name the new town Urdaneta.

The petition took almost two years to be processed. But soon after that the Governor-General issued a decree and the new town of Urdaneta was finally born on the 8th of January 1858. Two months later, on March 8, 1858, the town of Urdaneta was finally inaugurated. An assembly of Principales representing the seven towns composed of Asingan, Sta. Barbara, Mangaldan, San Jacinto, Manaoag, Binalonan, and Villasis gathered in Urdaneta. The documents on the proclamation of the new town were executed and signed by all the participating officials. Simultaneous was the construction of Urdaneta's first concrete church, forerunner of today's Catholic Cathedral, now the site of Eastern Pangasinan's Bishopric.

On January 10, 1998, through a bill sponsored by Rep. Amadeo R. Perez Jr., the Philippine Congress enacted R.A. 8480 converting the Municipality of Urdaneta into a component city of the Province of Pangasinan. The people of Urdaneta, in a plebiscite, overwhelmingly ratified this legislative act and Urdaneta was proclaimed a city on March 21, 1998.

SOCIO-CULTURAL DEVELOPMENT

The early settlers of Urdaneta were Ilocanos from the North who brought along with them their beliefs, customs and traditions. They are protective, visionaries and clannish. Their houses, which were made of bamboo and cogon, were compactly arranged. A Spanish Historian, Buzeta, commented on the way they constructed their houses:

“These Indios, upon establishing their communities, constructed their houses so close to one another that no space was left for their orchards contrary to the common practice of the natives in other places of the island who constructed their houses isolated in the fields adjacent to their farms.”

Father Fray Andres de Urdaneta

Some of the old socio-cultural traits were handed down to succeeding generations. These refer to pugot (creature without head); ansisit (dwarf); serena (mermaid); al-alia (ghost); anito (deity); and beliefs such as, never sing in front of a stove while cooking for surely one will marry an old maid or an old man.

Foremost among the inhabitants’ customs and traditions are “mano,” kissing the hands of elders as a sign of respect; and “uli,” a pre-wedding arrangement or agreement whereby the parents of the bride and groom finalize wedding preparations inclusive of the dowry, date of marriage and related matter. A few of these practices slowly vanished with the advent of Christian religions propagated by the Spanish and American rules. Likewise, nowadays, due to migrations from Tarlac, Pampanga and even as far as Batangas, other beliefs are infused in the community’s cultural heritage.

POLITICAL AND ADMINISTRATIVE

The political maturity of the present-day leaders was handed down from the early inhabitants banking on unity and cooperation. The leaders were reposed on the responsibility of governance considering the general welfare of the constituents. The Spaniards introduced the centralized form of government and an administrative system whereby the head of a “sitio” was called “Teniente Absolute” and of the town, “Gobernadorcillo.” In 1843, the title “Gobernadorcillo” was changed to “Captain.” The year 1899 ushered in the American Era in Philippine History. One of the local administrative orders asserted by the Americans was the installation of “Municipal Presidents” in lieu of “Capitanes.” From 1937 to the present, the local chief executive was referred to as “Municipal Mayor.”

PHYSICAL FEATURE

A. Topography and Slope

The city forms part of the Central Plains of Luzon consisting of generally flat landforms. Majority of the barangays have nearly flat terrain. The city has a general slope range of zero to three percent. However, the terrain at its southwestern portions, specifically in barangays Oltama, Cabaruan, and Sugcong, is terraced with a slope range of three to eight percent.

B. Soil

Urdaneta is blessed with rich soil suitable for almost all kinds of agricultural crops. The types of soil present in Urdaneta are the Quingua Series, Bantog Series, San Miguel Series, and San Fabian Series.

C. Natural Resources

- Vegetative Cover. Pastureland covers 282.20 hectares which is 2.33 percent of the locality’s total land area. This can be found in the rolling hills of barangays – Oltama, Cabaruan and Sugcong. Mango farms are located on the hills of these barangays while rice fields are on their lowlands which are watered by rivers and creeks. The city has no large-scale grassland and even forest.
- Water Resources. The city has three major resources of water as well as several creeks in almost all the barangays. These include the Tulong and Musing Rivers at the northern boundary; the Mitura River bisected barangays Poblacion and San Vicente; and the Macalong River. These bodies of water, as well as the tributaries of the Agno River drain into the central plains of the Province of Pangasinan. Irrigation water to the prime agricultural lands of Urdaneta comes from the Tangal Perez Dam in barangay Nancalobasaan.
- Mineral Resources. Mineral Resources in the city include tuffaceous shell deposits found in Cabaruan and Labit West, as well as gravel and sands deposits in the rivers.

D. Meteorology

- Climate and Rainfall. Urdaneta has two major seasons, the wet and the dry season. The City experiences the dry season from November to April. The wet season, in turn, is experienced from May to October with an average rainfall of 86 mm. The heaviest rainfalls usually occur between July to September. Seven to nine return periods of typhoons visit the City annually.
- Relative Humidity and Temperature. The city has a moderately hot temperature. The lowest recorded temperature is 21.6 °C during the month of December while the highest is 34 during the month of June. Relative humidity is 86 °C.

E. Geologic and Other Natural Hazards

- Earthquake. Urdaneta is traversed at its north eastern tip by the Pozorrubio to Umingan major fault line. This fault line goes in consonance with the Philippine fault line which runs from Dingalan Bay in Aurora Province to the Lingayen Gulf.
- Siltation. The city is generally underlain by sedimentary rocks of quaternary alluvial, lacustrine, river and residual deposits (Bureau of Mines, Regional Office I).
- Erosion. Majority of the barangays experience no erosion at all. This means that no conspicuous erosion is experienced in areas that are flat level or nearly flat, especially in wetlands and paddy rice locations. Some portions of Labit West experience none to slight (incipient) erosion in which the topsoil is disturbed but ploughing may negate the very slight incipient erosion. Parts of barangays Cabaruan Oltama and Sugcong have slight erosion. The pattern in these areas is characterized by sheet erosion with small rolls. Areas along the Macalong River and Tulong and Calegu Rivers experience slight erosion, as well.
- Flood Hazard. Flood prone areas include portions of barangays Poblacion, Pinmaludpod, Nancayasan, San Jose, Camantiles, Tulong, Anonas and the lowland portions of barangays.

3. Flood Hazard Map of Urdaneta.

F. Environmental Critical Areas

Some areas are siltation-prone where debris flows and mudflows may occur in its low-lying areas near riverbanks, particularly in the northern part of barangays San Jose, Camantiles, Tulong, and portions of barangays Labit West, Catablan, Sto. Domingo, Sta. Lucia, Cabuloan and Camanang. Erosion prone areas are also present in the hillsides of barangay Oltama. Flood susceptible areas are those barangays along the river system and those areas with poor drainage systems. These barangays are San Vicente, Mabanogbog, San Jose, Pinmaludpod, Camantiles, Anonas, Nancalobasaan, and Poblacion.

C. WATER FACILITIES

Most residents of the city utilize upgraded artesian wells to pump groundwater. Sanitary inspectors of respective city health offices conduct chlorination in flood prone areas to ensure the safety of the residents. Other major sources of water supply are tributaries of rivers and creeks (Ago, Tulong, Tagamusing, Macalong and Mitura Rivers).

The existing water supply system of Urdaneta was originally constructed in 1959 by the defunct National Waterworks and Sewerage Authority otherwise known as (NAWASA) to serve the Poblacion area only. The original water supply system consisted of an elevated concrete storage tank, a well/pumping station located beside the municipal hall and about 5.3 kms of distribution pipelines. In 1965, the distribution pipelines were extended to about 6 kms. more. The Urdaneta Water District (UWD) was created on February 20, 1976 by virtue of the Sangguniang Bayan Resolution No. 6, series of 1976. On that same day, the Sangguniang Bayan turned-over all existing water facilities to the custody of the Urdaneta Water District.

In 2019, the Urdaneta City Water District (UCWD) with the approval of the city government entered into a partnership with Prime Water Corporation to supply the city’s needs.

B. ECONOMIC STRUCTURE

Primary to Tertiary Structures. The primary economic sector of the city is farming. The main contributor to the secondary economy is the construction industry. While tertiary to quaternary sectors are trade, banking, and others.

As the national economy began its recovery from the dire impact of the Covid-19 pandemic, business in Urdaneta City also started to regain its dynamism and optimism.

The City of Urdaneta continues its ascendancy in 2025 as a premier urban growth center in Northern Luzon. Under the dynamic and dedicated leadership of Mayor Julio F. Parayno III, Urdaneta maintained its remarkable rise as the only 1st Class City in Pangasinan by sustaining strong revenue generation, impactful infrastructure development, and good governance reforms while winning a slew of awards in the process.

Revenue generation and collection saw a consistent rise. Business tax collections – the main generator of local income – realized another increase in 2025 to P193,217,614.96 compared to P179,093,012.30 in 2024 or a 7.88% increase.

The steady increase can be attributed to the local leadership’s strong push for reforms in the collection process and innovations in the business permitting system, thereby energizing the Business Permits and Licensing Office in its mandate to make Urdaneta a business-friendly city and an engine of revenue generation. The total number of registered businesses for 2025 is 5,561– a testament to the strong confidence of the business sector in Urdaneta City’s growth trajectory.

The City Agricultural Office supports the city's farmers by giving assistance through the various programs.

Major Banner Programs

a. Rice Banner Program

Under the Rice banner, farmers were benefited with the various projects, program and activities, namely:

➤ Planting Report

	Total Area Planted (hectares)	Yield per Hectare	Total Production
WET Season	4,818	5.7 tons/ha	26,499 tons
DRY Season	5,337	present	present

Source: City Agriculture Office

Wet Season 2025, Urdaneta City’s rice production is projected to reach 26,499 tons from an estimated 4,818 hectares of planted area, with an average yield of 5.7 tons per hectare.

For Dry Season 2025, Urdaneta City targets to plant 5,337 hectares of rice. The Department of Agriculture’s National Rice Program (DA–NRP) will provide hybrid rice seeds for 3,337 hectares, while an additional 2,000 hectares will be supported through the Rehabilitation Program using Jackpot 102 variety.

➤ Damage Report

Due to the series of typhoons that hit Urdaneta City, approximately 518 hectares of rice farms in various barangays were damaged. This result in an estimated production loss of 2,954 tons, equivalent to a value loss of P31,002,300.

➤ Fertilizer Subsidy Wet Season 2025

For Wet Season 2025, 4,268 bags each of 14-14-14 and Ammonium Sulfate (21-0-0) were distributed. Distribution faced delays due to Department of Agriculture fertilizer supply issues, taking place from late November 2025 to early January 2026. Only 72% of the allocated fertilizer reached the hybrid seed farmer not included, resulting in a significant impact. As a result, a CAFC meeting was held with all farmer leaders to discuss steps to ensure that all farmers can be provided with fertilizer Subsidy.

➤ Rice Farmers Financial Assistance 5 (RFFA 5)

The Rice Farmers Financial Assistance (RFFA) program provides direct cash support to rice farmers to help improve their production and livelihood. Under RFFA 5, a total of 4,746 qualified farmers from Urdaneta City were submitted as beneficiaries, defined as those registered in the DA’s RSBSA system with farm areas of 2.0 hectares or below and members of farmers associations. Of these, 4,199 farmers received their ₱7,000 allocation through the 1st batch via ATM withdrawals starting June 3, 2025, while 113 farmers received theirs in the 2nd batch over-the counter on December 22, 2025, at PREC Santa Barbara, Pangasinan, amounting to a total distribution of ₱30,184,000.

The Hybrid Rice Seed Distribution Program covered three cropping seasons with a total of 12,152 bags of hybrid rice seeds distributed, based on 3,740 bags for Dry Season 2024 2025, 3,510 bags for Wet Season 2025, and 4,902 bags for Dry Season 2025–2026, at an estimated government procurement cost of ₱5,000 per 15-kg bag, amounting to approximately ₱60,760,000.00

➤ LGU Inbred Rice Seeds Subsidy

A total of 1,850 bags of seed varieties 222 and 160, covering 925 hectares, were provided by LGU Urdaneta through the City Agriculture Office across three seasons to farmers not registered in RSBSA and as replacements for typhoon-damaged crops, with a total budget of ₱1,850,000.00.

During the dry season (December 2024 June 2025), 83 hectares were planted with GMO hybrid yellow corn, while the wet season (July 2025 – November 2025) covered 81 hectares of the same variety. Production was partially affected by Typhoon Crising, which damaged 0.5 hectare at the harvesting stage and 2.0 hectares at the seedling stage, each with an estimated 30% loss.

c. Livestock Banner Program

A livestock status assessment recorded a total of 98 heads of swine, 10,000 heads of poultry, 483 heads of cattle, and 2,678 heads of goats. Ecological Solid Waste Management

Citizen’s participation is the key to the effective implementation of the Ecological Solid Waste Management Program of the City of Urdaneta. The city’s ecological solid waste management program reflects its commitment to environmental quality, efficient public service, and economic well-being.

Urdaneta City, being an urbanizing locality, is being confronted by enormous problems on solid waste and wastewater. The city-wide collection of solid wastes and the 24/7 operation within the City Central Business District highways and byways and also in all barangays, generate volumes of garbage that require financial appropriation for its collection, treatment and disposal.

Likewise, the increasing population, booming educational, commercial and industrial sector generate a lot of waste water draining into canals, eventually contaminating and polluting our creeks and river system and underground water resources.

The city has an Engineered Sanitary Landfill located at Barangay Catablan, Urdaneta City, Pangasinan with an area of 18 hectares. Urban barangays are subjected to daily collection, while rural barangays are scheduled to collect garbage. Majority of the waste collected is of commercial and industrial while the rest comprise domestic and institutional. There were 23 garbage trucks to collect garbage and maintain the cleanliness of the city.

The General Services Office provide and maintain general public services, such as solid waste management, maintenance of government facilities, records management system and to coordinate with proper authorities in the strict implementation of rules regulations, policies and ordinances as required by law

This year, programs and services conducted by the personnel of General Services Office were the following:

- I. Solid Waste Management and Disposal
 - Regular collection of solid waste materials in all barangays and in the city.
 - Systematic disposal of solid waste materials.
 - Systematic sweeping/cleaning/removing of solid waste like plastic, dusts, dirt, pebbles and stones, grasses and debris along CBD, highways, and bypass road.
